About this story

This is the opening myth in John B. Losi's History of Lagos (1914): how the hunter of Iṣẹ̀ri lived, how he hunted as a boa, and why the old people still remember his name.

Pictures carry the story. When you read aloud: yellow Storyteller boxes are narration; white bubbles with a name are that character speaking.

SPECIMEN

For parents & teachers

Tone: mythic and a little sad — not a horror story. The “smash” is overturned pots, not harm to people.

Source: Losi’s Early Lagosians chapter. Adapted for young readers by SHITTA-BEY.com.
